This is a summary of the decision of the Commissioner:

A complaint was lodged at the Data Protection Office regarding CCTV camera under Section 11 of the Data Protection Act against Respondent. Complainants alleged that the Respondent has placed the CCTV cameras to monitor activities on the common road used by public member.

My office initiated an immediate enquiry and indicated to Respondent that the rules of data protection require that video surveillance system must be positioned to capture images only within his premise.

My office conducted site visits at Respondent's place and observed that corrective actions have been taken to focus images within the premises of Respondent only. This was shown to the officers via video images on a television screen. Additionally, the Respondent has displayed a sign at the entrance of his house to inform people that his premise is under camera surveillance.

Complainants have further declared that they are satisfied with the enquiry carried out by my office and the said cameras are no longer invading their privacy.

Thus, I found no commission of any offence under the Data Protection Act.
